THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1873.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Claims are 40 cents per bushel in Newbern.

Rain is needed in the New Hanover section.

The New Hanover Superior Court convened on Monday.

Wilmington is proud of having green corn on Sunday.

Canada thistles are numbered among the attractions of Newbern.

The kidnapping scare is about to be revived in Wilmington.

The Wilmington Cornet Band have received their instruments.

Dogs are playing havoc with sheep in some portions of Orange.

Commencement exercises are the order of the day all over the State.

The crops in Bladen county are said to be looking remarkably well.

Charlotte is now given to chicken fighting and other ungodly amusements.

The Craven Superior Court commenced its session on Monday, Judge Clark presiding.

A colored boy in Wilmington, on Monday last, had his foot mangled by a loaded drag.

A huge snake was demolished within the precincts of the New Hanover County Work House on Monday.

A slight car smashing took place on the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad on Friday, near Marion.

The young ladies of Christ Church, Newbern, are having socials which are rendered exquisite by ice cream and trimmings.

A man by the name of Holman, living in Lemley's Township, Mecklenburg county, fell from the top of his barn the other day and seriously injured himself.

Says the Wilmington Journal of the 23d inst: "Charles Wesley Wren has at length been taken up in New York, that great city of refuge for all who are compelled to flee from the wrath to come in this world. A gentleman in this city was yesterday favored with a letter from him, dated at New York, last Thursday, in which he expressed the hope of being able to revisit our charming city some where between July 5th and 10th. A graceful silence was maintained in regard to his ignominious flight from among us."

Says the Hillsboro Recorder of the 25th inst: "The harvest is progressing in this and the adjoining counties with remarkable fine weather for the purpose. The accounts of the condition of the crops are very conflicting in some portions of the county, the yield promising a fair average, while in others it is much below. In the red land the crops have fared more hardly from the severity of the winter. In the gray lands the injury was less. On the whole, it may be set down that the wheat crop of Orange is not a full one, nor is the grain as good as it was last year."

From a recent number of Appleton's Journal we clip the following, which must be of value to all who are interested in the ancient history of North Carolina: "Professor W. C. Kerr, State Geologist for North Carolina, has discovered that the supposed 'silver caves' in Mitchell county are probably mica mines worked by contemporaries of the mound builders. This view is substantiated by recent discoveries in the West of plates of mica cut into different shapes, and possibly intended as mirrors and windows. Since there is none of this mineral in the Mississippi Valley, it is possible that those Carolina caves were excavations made in search of it."

The slave trade in this country in Italian children is exciting considerable attention, and the government has been appealed to in the matter. A large number of these children are kidnapped yearly and brought to New York.

The importations of giraffes into this country are growing so large that it is proposed to utilize them by street car service.

Recently an Illinois minister became so enraptured by the fascinations of three card money, that he lost both his watch and pulpit.

Warm milk is now being used as a specific for diarrhea. It is said a pint every four hours will check the most violent attack.

John W. Toney, of Richmond, has been elected Grand Master of the colored Grand Lodge of Masons in Virginia.

Colonel T. T. Hill, brother of the late General, died at Culpeper Court House, Va., of heart disease, on Sunday.

Col. Valery Sulakowski, commander of the Polish Brigade in the Confederate service, died in New Orleans a few days ago.

Over 5,000,000 acres of land are open for homesteads and pre-emption in Dakota.

The Richmond Enquirer styles the Granges now being organized in this State, a little game of Pool.

On Saturday, in Nashville, Tenn., 18 negroes died of cholera within a stone's throw of each other.

Texas has some forty Agricultural Societies.

Enormous crops of wheat are reported in Oregon.

A Carlist Committee has been organized in Havana.

U. S. Senator Sherman has declined to receive his back pay.

The Richmond Board of Health urges vigorous sanitary measures.

Marble of the finest quality has been found in Augusta county, Va.

The average of accidental deaths during the year in this country is 11,000.

The yearly municipal expenses of Chicago amount to $5,000,000.

I have used Dr. Simmons' Liver Regulator in my family for Dyspepsia and Sick Headache, and regard it as an invaluable remedy in these attacks. It has not failed to give relief in any instance.

COMMERCIAL REPORTS.

In and Around Greensboro.

GREENSBORO, N. C., June 25.

Cucumbers, squashes, dewberries and apples are among the diet of the day.

Miss Porter's day school picnic Thursday was a grand affair with the children.

The morning six wagon loads drove out to South Buffalo where they had a jolly good time playing various games, fishing, bathing—male and female—in different places, though; and above all partaking of the sumptuous repast they were thoughtful in taking. Late in the evening the children returned with their banners (handkerchiefs on fishing poles) floating in the breeze and hurrahing at the top of their voices.

Pic-nics and fishing excursions are the amusement of the day. One of each Thursday and ditto Friday.

The supposition is that there is an organized band of thieves in this place. Garden thieves, chicken thieves and thieves of almost any nature. On last Wednesday night they made a raid and broke open six different smoke-houses, helping themselves to what they could find. They got a tough old rooster of one man, who said they would have a tough time eating it. This band is supposed to be negroes. On the same night in Waverlyville they were beating a drum and blowing a fife. This was done for effect, to throw off suspicion, while the thefts were being perpetrated. They had a festival Thursday and Friday nights—hence the beating. The festival were given in the interest of the Baptist church, African.

The Milston Tableau exhibited 2 nights of last week in this place.

F. J. McAfee, who was arrested about a year ago for counterfeiting money and passing the same, was transferred Saturday from the Charlotte jail to the one in this place. He was first taken from here to Charlotte, but receiving better "grub" in our jail, he asked the authorities to bring him back.

Several Canadian families have recently settled in Guilford.

Rev. Mr. Hendren and family, from Newbern, have "pitched their tent" in our town and will make this their permanent home.

The new Masonic Lodge Room was dedicated Tuesday night.

The farmers in and around Thomasville expect to have a grand time on the glorious 4th. Hon. Robt. P. Dick, Maj. W. A. Smith, and W. S. Ball, Esq., will deliver addresses.

Joseph W. King, an agent of a Philadelphia Lightning Rod Company, flailing the "vase" making money fast enough at the business conducted by him, tried an easier plan, and called on the postmaster at Reidsville, putting himself to the trouble of relieving the postmaster of $40. He took to the train and came to this place, but before arriving a dispatch passed him somewhere on the road, and an officer met him at the depot. He is now contemplating his situation in the public boarding house.

Business has been so dull for the past 2 weeks that many of our business men have been seeking amusements to hurry by "dull cares."

A little colored boy fell and broke his left arm Tuesday evening.

On Saturday night a U. S. soldier named Wm. Fletcher, stationed at Fort Monroe, was waylaid on the road between the Fort and Mill Creek, and his brains beaten out with a club in the hands of one Henry Davis, a colored employee at the Hygeia hotel. They were visiting the same woman, and jealousy led to the crime. The murderer was arrested, identified by a colored boy who witnessed the affair and lodged in jail at Hampton.

A terrible fratricide occurred on the 20th inst., at Bellhaven, Northampton county, Va. One Geo. Thomas, aged 17 years, deliberately shot and killed his elder brother, Levin Thomas, aged 23 years.

The exact locality of Mount Calvary where Christ was crucified has at last been definitely located. It is on the hill outside of Damascus gate, near the North wall of Jerusalem.

Major W. T. Southwell, of Danville, Va., declines the candidature for Lt. Governor of Virginia on the Wise ticket. Guerrilla Mosby is casting about for some one to fill the vacancy.

A man, by the name of Redheifer is a candidate for a Philadelphia judgeship. An exchange wickedly remarks that as that city already has several asses on the bench there is no necessity to put on a calf.

OFFICE OF

W. E. ALLCOTT,

GROCER AND

PRODUCE COMMISSION MERCHANT.

I respectfully inform my friends and the public generally that I have removed to the building formerly occupied by Mr. M. H. BROWN, which being a better location and more convenient building, I am better prepared to fill all orders for Heavy and Fancy Groceries.

I intend to continue the business upon the same basis of excellence of quality, promptness of shipment, strictly the same prices and terms for all without variation or discount in favor of any individual customer, and with thoroughly fair dealing in general and in particular. I shall always keep in view the ancient finger board, pointing out the old way to success through strict economy, fair dealing, business enterprise and close application.

Thanking you heartily for your favors in the past, I hope to receive a share of your patronage in the future, and shall ever do my best to make the relation to your advantage as well as my own.

SELECTED POETRY

IT NEVER PAYS.

It never pays to fret and growl
When fortune seems our foe;
The better part will push ahead
And strike the brave blow.
For luck is work,
And those who work
Should not lament their doom;
But yield the play,
And those who play
That better men have room.
It never pays to wreck the health
In drugging after gain,
And he who thinks that gold
Is cheapest bought with pain.
A humble lot,
A cosy cot,
Have temperance, friends;
For station high,
That wealth will buy,
Not on contentment bring.
It never pays a blunt refrain
Well worth a word of song;
For age and youth must learn this truth,
That nothing pays that's wrong.
The good and pure
Alone are sure
To bring prolong
While what is right,
In Heaven's sight,
Is always sure to bless.

Jefferson Davis' Book.

The Confederate ex-President has been "interviewed," in Memphis, by a writer for the Macon (Ga.) Register who says: "It was in 1858 that I first saw this historical man. He had just returned from West Point, and wore the uniform of a cadet. He was then a little, modest youth, whose deep gray eyes twinkled with the beauty and brilliancy of a star. His head was small, as it is yet, but admirably formed, and there was an intelligence in his features that gave promise of the future he has fulfilled. That eye-to-day beams with the steady light of a mental illumination rarely met with in one of his years and sorrows. Those features, once so radiant, are now sad and weary, the cast of deep melancholy, save when animated with the spirit which yet burns in his bosom when excited by thought or conversation. Sometimes, in the twinkling of mirth, his eyes and lights up his features. But soon the joyous smile fades into the melancholy, which has become habitual. His health is good. He has but one sound eye. You know the vision of the other has long since faded in darkness. This defect forbids much reading and writing. Yet to-day, in the familiarity of old friendship, I remarked, I think, Mr. Davis, you will not lose your eyes. He said, 'I have given to the world your views and opinions as to the causes which led to the late war? I am writing,' he said—and he drummed with his finger on the blaze colored table, upon which his arm rested, and the deep sadness which clouded his features, and followed the remark was painful to contemplate. 'You have just returned from a visit to Lamar, and contemplate a visit to Georgia, you say. Say to Hardman and Sherman, when you see them, I have a pleasant memory of them both; and, further, tell them I am preparing a work with all the impartiality possible to me, and after years of sober thought, which shall not leave the world in darkness as to my motives and my conduct, or that of those who acted with me.'"

Classes of Occupations.

The New York World, in the course of an article on the Census Report, which is showing up as a Protection dodge on a gigantic scale, gives us the following interesting paragraph. In the classification of population, according to occupations, it is established that in 1870 there were 12,508,923 persons engaged in all classes of occupations. Of these, 5,922,471 were engaged in agriculture, 5,684,793 in manufactures and personal services, 1,191,238 in trade and transportation, and 9,707,431 in manufactures, mechanical and mining industries.

Very nearly half of those engaged in all varieties of pursuits are farmers, and as these are steadily organizing their Granges throughout the country we may soon expect them to constitute a very formidable power, united on the comprehensive ground of cheap transportation and low taxes. When the filers of the soil once understand the true meaning of protection, which is but another name for the robbery of the many for the profit of the few, we may expect to see a new face put on our affairs. For our own part, we are particularly anxious to let posterity pay the national debt, and the farmers, when once organized, will agree with us in this plain measure of justice and economy.

A PROCLAMATION.

By the Governor of North Carolina.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
RALEIGH, June 14, 1873.

WHEREAS, Official information has been received at this Department that vacancies exist in the Senate of the General Assembly of North Carolina by reason of the resignation of Hiram C. Stille and J. B. Beeson, representing the Second Senatorial District, and that vacancies exist in the House of Representatives of the said General Assembly by reason of the resignation of Alfred J. Morrison, representative from Lincoln County, and Richard C. Badger, representative from Wake County; Now, therefore, I, T. R. CALDWELL, Governor of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said Hiram C. Stille and J. B. Beeson, and the said Alfred J. Morrison and Richard C. Badger, have resigned their offices, and that the said vacancies exist in the Senate and House of Representatives of the said General Assembly, and that the said vacancies exist in the Senate and House of Representatives of the said General Assembly, and that the said vacancies exist in the Senate and House of Representatives of the said General Assembly.
